

When it's cold, we wear the coats

The #Omicron virus is highly contagious, the three-layer surgical-type mask may not be enough to protect against, says Dr. Theresa Tam, Chief Public Health Officer of Canada. Despite this, fools keep asking people to remove N95 masks and replace them with inferior surgical masks. Lena Patsa filed a class action lawsuit with the BC Human Rights Tribunal against @Fraserhealth. Please, know that the process of filing a class action lawsuit is not complicated and in addition it is free for all British Columbians. So share the info because it's time to make your voices heard and protect yourself.

Quand il fait froid, on portes les manteaux

Le virus #Omicron est très contagieux, le masque de type chirurgical à trois couches pourrait ne pas suffire pour se protéger, déclare la Dre Theresa Tam, administratrice en chef de la santé publique du Canada. Malgré cela, des imbéciles ne cessent de demander aux gens de retirer les maques N95 et de les remplacer par des masques chirurgicaux de qualité inférieure. Lena Patsa a déposé un recours collectif auprès du Tribunal des droits de la personne de la Colombie-Britannique contre @Fraserhealth. Sachez que le processus de dépôt d'un recours collectif n'est pas compliqué et en plus il est gratuit pour tous les Britanno-Colombiens. Alors partagez l'info car il est temps de faire entendre vos voix et de vous protéger.

*) Thank you Juanita, much appreciated. How do we: Raise more awareness? Inform the public that they should speak up if they are refused access for fear of exposure? Address other issues such as mixing of +ve & -ve patients? Apply this to education (also a service)? DMs are welcome.

They refused to accept Covid was airborne, long after the science was clear, & still won't address airborne transmission in the workplace. They cut the Covid isolation period, unsupported by science. Business has scripted pandemic public health policy and we have all suffered.
